Welcome to e-Logistics Management

e-Logistics Management provides consultancy services in
- industry-level transformation through the intelligent adoption of information infrastructures;
- specific systems development in the application of information and communication technologies to the logistics and tourism industries;
- supply chain analysis, restructuring of supply chain relationships, and the development supply chain performance monitoring solutions;
- identification of strategic directions in the logistics and tourism industries, both at the individual business level and at the whole of industry level.